Recipe: How to make the best muffins ever

By 5B Cheng Nga Sum

Hello, today I am going to tell you how to make some delicious muffins.

You will need 2 medium eggs, 125 ml vegetable oil, 250ml skimmed milk, 250g of golden caster sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt and 100g of dried fruit (which is optional).

Steps

First, preheat the oven to 200c. Line 2 muffin trays with paper muffin cases. In a large bowl, beat 2 medium eggs lightly with a handheld electric mixer for 1 minute.

Next, add 125ml vegetable oil and 250ml semi-skimmed milk and beat until just combined. Then, add 250g golden caster sugar and whisk until you have a smooth batter.

Then, sift in 400g plain flour and 3 tsp baking powder and 1 tsp salt, and then mix them until just smooth. Be careful not to overmix the batter as this will make the muffins tough.

After that, stir in 100g dried fruit. Fill the muffin cases two-thirds full and bake for 20-25 minutes. If the trays do not fit on 1 shelf, swap the shelves around after 15 mins of cooking.

Finally, leave the muffins in the tin to cool for a few minutes and transfer them to a wire rack to cool completely.

I hope you will like my recipe. And you can try to make the muffins on your own if you have time. I am sure you will have lots of fun making those yummy and homemade muffins.

Book Report of The Wizard of Oz

By 5A Lee Perseus Robin

Do you know what The Wizard of Oz is? I know it very well. It was written in 1900 by Lyman Frank Baum and it is an interesting fiction story book. It is also very popular because of the classic movie based on it.

The story is about a girl in Kansas (Dorothy) and her little doggy (Toto) who gets caught by a tornado. It might seem horrible, but the tornado teleported them to a fantasy world: Oz.

Then, a fun story happens in Oz. What happens? Buy or borrow the book to discover.

After I read the book, I felt it is an attractive novel because the characters are extremely lively. I fully recommend all of you to read this excellent book. Please share if you like it too!

Book Report of Diary of a Wimpy Kid #11 Double Down.

By 5B Liu Tsun Hei

The book I want to share with you is the Diary of a Wimpy Kid #11 Double Down.

This book is about a kid named Greg Heffley. His mum thinks that video games are like little demons that are turning his brain to mush, so she wants him to put down the controller, step out of his comfort zone and explore his own "creative side".

A creepy day is coming, and the frights are coming to Greg from all sides, when he finds out that he can go to an awesome Halloween party by joining the school band. He joins it immediately, but he finds a shocking surprise. When Greg miraculously discovers a bag of gummy worms, an idea comes to mind. Can he become a billionaire and famous during the process, or will he help others become famous?

I like this book because it is hilarious and entertaining. I hope you will like it as much as I do.

Storytelling: The White Bear

By 5B Chan Hui Ching

This is a story of a polar bear, Milly, who is very adorable. However, humans are destroying the environment and making the ice melt, so Milly is in danger, and she goes on a journey to save herself.

Milly lives on the northern island. She is ecstatic about her life as she plays a lot. She chats with her friends, looks at the penguins, and swims in the sea. How free is it in the northern island!

One day, when Milly was swimming in the ocean, she found that the ocean was bigger than before. She thought the sea had grown bigger. After swimming in the sea, she just went home elatedly. She also realized the distance home was shorter than before! Milly was puzzled.

Do you know why the sea became bigger than before? If not, the second part of the story has the answer.

Milly also found the place she lived in was getting smaller and smaller. Soon, she will have no place to live, no food to eat, and no friends to chat with...

Now you know why, don't you? It's because the ice melted into water and made the sea bigger. Humans who are destroying the environment are responsible for this. So if you want to help Milly and her family or friends, please reuse, reduce and recycle things. Save the earth and save her life!

Sharing: Graduation Speech

By 6B Tsang Man Yi

Time flies and I will graduate from Bishop Walsh Primary School very soon.

I remember that I was a shy and quiet person when I first came to this school. I seldom talked with my classmates. But over time, I have met many new friends and chatted with them cheerfully. The teachers always encouraged and supported me and made me feel confident.

In these six years, I have learnt a lot of knowledge and understood many thoughts of life. This is my favorite motto that I've learned, "It does not matter how slowly you go as long as you do not stop." It means that you will succeed if you never give up.

The most memorable experience is the Graduation Camp. We played a lot of activities there and learnt the importance of cooperation and discipline. I had a great time in these six years of primary school life. Thanks to BWPS!

Sharing: Graduating from Primary School

By 6B Yao Yuk Cho

Time flies like an arrow, we have spent six years of primary school life.

During these six years of primary school life, we have grown a lot. After experiencing countless setbacks and difficulties together, we have learnt that we should learn from our failures. In addition, we have also established a firm friendship. The communication, cooperation, and exchanges between each other have been extremely smooth. We have really changed a lot through the whole primary school life!

When I first stepped into this school, I was very lonely since there weren't any kindergarten classmates entering this school with me. Other people were walking together, chatting, and laughing; but I was alone. Just as I was sighing and feeling lost, a prefect noticed me, and she asked me gently, "Little girl, what grade are you in?" I answered, tremblingly, 'First...first grade.' She nodded thoughtfully, squatted down slowly, kept level with me, and with a bright smile on her mouth, carefully guided me to the place where the Primary One students gathered.

Then, I gathered up my courage to walk to the meeting point step by step. I met many classmates that were similar to my age there, but I didn't dare to come forward to greet them. I turned my head and looked helplessly at the prefect. The prefect kept cheering for me, 'Don't be scared!' After being inspired, I was full of confidence and bravely stepped forward to greet my new classmates.

Since then, I have determined that when I grow up, I also want to help others. Looking back now, my classmates and I have gone through large and small exams, experienced many activities and our friendship has been deeply rooted. Even when we're not in school, we'll meet up to hang out together during holidays. Even though we have been divided into classes many times since the first grade and the people around us are constantly changing, our friendship for each other will not be diluted by this.

In addition to gaining friendship, the most obvious change is the change in how we treat people and do things. In the past, when we were young, we might always put our own interests first and ignore others, now that we have grown up, we have learned to share with others and listen to their opinions. Unlike in the past, when we all relied on the care of older schoolmates, now we are the eldest students in the whole school and have ability to help the younger students.

During the six years of Primary school life, I have not only learned knowledge and friendship, but also learned the moral character that a person should have. I hope that every student who is going to graduate can 'cherish the people in front of you' and communicate more with classmates and teachers in the limited time. Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to everyone who has helped me, the teachers for their earnest teachings, and the parents for their perseverance!

I am very grateful for your dedication. If it weren't for your selfless dedication and silent help, how could we have grown so rapidly in just six short years? Thank you all!
