

Go Shopping

Last week, Billy and his mother go shopping in the Happy Shopping Centre. In the shopping centre, Billy sees toy cars, toy planes, jigsaw puzzles and robots in a toy shop. The toy cars draw Billy's attention and attract him to stay in the shop.

At the same time, Mum sees something in another boutique. Some rainbow colour lights are shining in that shop. When Mum steps inside, Mum sees a nice rainbow dress! It is so beautiful. Mum feels very delighted when she sees the dress. She buys it at once.

After Billy finishes looking at the toy cars, he wants to tell his mum to buy it. But Billy cannot see his mum. He is very scared. He ran out of the toy shop. At the corner, he finds the shop full of colourful clothes. Billy looks inside, he sees his mum there. Billy changes his mind, he doesn't want to buy the car any more. After that, Billy and his mum go home happily. He learns that he should always follow his mum if he goes shopping with her.

A Visit to Happy Park

It is a sunny Saturday morning. Sam and his parents visit Happy Park in Tai Po. It is big and beautiful. Mum puts on her sunglasses. Dad and Sam put on their hats. They bring some food and drinks, they feel excited.

They go to an organic garden in the park. They can see different kinds of vegetables, such as corn, strawberries, carrots and watermelons. Sam's mum takes a lot of photos of them.

After visiting the organic garden, Sam goes to the pond. He can see two naughty children throwing rocks to the swans. The swans are very scared. He is angry. He yells, 'Stop doing that! I will tell the security guard about it!'

At last, the security guard comes. The children are scared of the security guard and say, 'Sorry, next time we won't do it again.' After the children apologize, they leave the park. Sam is happy to see the swans swimming happily and freely again. We should know that even the lives of animals should be cherished and respected by people.
